

HEAVY-DUTY DOCUMENT SHREDDER

The new Kobra Cyclone is a heavy-duty, high-volume industrial shredder that is the latest development in shredding technology, ultimately changing how companies view the shredding market and security for their business.

The Cyclone is a cost-effective offering, bringing security in house so that government departments can both directly manage and protect their confidential corporate data and save substantial money over costly lockable wheelie bins that go off-site for destruction.

This multipurpose shredder is specially designed for large quantities of paper, cardboard, CDs, DVDs, floppy disks, credit cards and even aluminium cans and plastic bottles.

The Cyclone shreds up to 500 sheets of paper at a time regardless of the particle size with a shredding output up to 420kg of paper per hour.

The unique feature of the Cyclone is the five security levels that break down material into different particle sizes depending on the importance of documents.

Using the Cyclone is easy – one employee simply presses the start button, throws the material into the large entry opening and leaves. Kobra Cyclone's turbine-based shredding system automatically shreds everything and turns off completely when finished, saving both energy and time.

Kobra Cyclone does not require any lubrication or oiling that other machines with similar outputs do, making it simple and occupationally safe for everyone in the office to use.

When the bag is full, the Cyclone has an automatic stop function and the plastic bag can be easily removed and disposed of assisted by the built-in-trolley. The Cyclone also leaves the work environment clean and dust free with its integrated vacuum system.

Kobra Cyclone complies with the shredding standards of the Federal Government's security authority and has also been approved by the USA National Security Agency for high security document destruction.

Kobra Cyclone has already been purchased by several government departments and is currently in use at the Department of Defence, Australian Customs and Border Protection Service and the Australian Federal Police.
